MUSIC CITY CENTER

FY2018 ECONOMIC IMPACT

Music City has been a hit with meeting planners and delegates for decades, but expanded offerings and worldwide attention over the last few years have propelled Nashville to superstar status. In musical terms, the city has gone double-platinum. At the heart of Nashville's popularity is the city's willingness to march to its own beat. It's a place where creative cuisine and down-home cooking are equally lauded, where urban offerings meet Southern charm, and where the craft of songwriting is as revered as the superstars who bring the music to life.

LIVE MUSIC, OF COURSE

Live music can be found 365 days a year in Music City. Never miss a note when you download the Nashville Live Music App (visitmusiccity.com/nashvillemusicapp), which has listings for more than 180 venues. Users can search by area of town or venue name, and a handy map function will show your location and the live music venue options nearby. No app? No problem. Look for the series of guitar-pick sidewalk signs that indicate where great live music can be found.

MUSIC CITY CENTER

As Music City, we've naturally developed an excellent knack for listening. And we've heard loud and clear exactly what you want: a bigger stage for your larger meetings and conventions. The Music City Center is located just south of Broadway in downtown Nashville on a 16-acre site between Fifth and Eighth avenues and Demonbreun and Franklin Street, adjacent to both the Bridgestone Arena and Country Music Hall of Fame® and Museum. Other highlights include:

IT'S GREEN: In keeping with the city's commitment to sustainable development, the MCC boasts a 4-acre green roof, 845 solar panels, a 360,000-gallon rainwater collection tank - and is LEED Gold-Certified. In fact, the solar panels generated 1.2 million kilowatt-hours of energy in 2017, and by using the rainwater collection tank, the MCC reduced water usage by 50 percent, saving 10.2 million gallons of water!

IT'S GOT YOU COVERED: With

1.2 million square feet of public space, the MCC is ready for your BIG events. There are 60 meeting rooms, two expansive ballrooms and 5,000 square feet of retail space. A retail market and concourse expansion in 2017 added 5,000 square feet of registration space and more than 4,000 square feet of new market space.

IT'S ACCESSIBLE: The MCC offers stunning views of the Nashville skyline and is just blocks away from Broadway, making walking around downtown a cinch.

THERE'S ONLY ONE NASHVILLE - AN AUTHENTIC DESTINATION THAT MARCHES TO ITS OWN BEAT

WE HAVE STAR POWER

Nashville's worldwide reputation as a center for entertainment lends star power to every Music City meeting. It's a destination that simultaneously feels both familiar and excitingly new, whether it's a first visit or a return engagement.

The city's powerful brand of artistry, friendliness, collaboration and authenticity drives excitement - and attendance - often to record-breaking levels. Those same attributes help meeting professionals tap into Nashville's creative culture and turn every event into a hit.

A ONE-OF-A-KIND EXPERIENCE

The Music City difference is instantly recognizable upon arrival. Touching down at Nashville International Airport, the concourses are filled with local restaurants, retailers and music. Hotels infuse the city's artistic flavor into upscale design and innovative menu options and entertainment. And Nashville's renowned hospitality adds to the warm welcome that sets the tone for the days to come.

A master of mixing business with pleasure, Nashville takes a leadership role in a range of industries from music, publishing and auto manufacturing to health care, technology and finance.

This is a city filled with makers and collaborators. Against that backdrop, meeting professionals have a wealth of resources to stage a conference that perfectly aligns with their vision.

As the workday winds down, the city's famed music scene is already heating up. Talented singers and musicians take to the stages across more than 180 live entertainment venues in Nashville.

The stars shine brightly on the city's most famous stage of all, the Grand Ole Opry. Since 1925, performers have stepped into the spotlight, standing where generations of musical legends have stood before, to entertain live audiences and the millions more across America listening to the nation's longestrunning radio show.

While this is a city where nonstop music is played, it's also the place where it is made.

Nashville's artistic soul is so well known that superstars from every genre have spent time here, working collaboratively with local songwriters and soaking up the city's creative spirit.

Musicians and lyricists often share the fascinating inspiration behind some of radio's biggest hits in venues around town like The Bluebird Cafe or during special songwriter-in-theround events that can be arranged for groups.

This is also a city rich in history that weaves together Nashville's storied past and exciting future. Historic homes and museums shed light on an earlier era and offer a unique setting for off-site functions.

Venues including the Country Music Hall of Fame® and Museum, individual artist's museums, the Musicians Hall of Fame & Museum and the soon-to-open National Museum of African American Music provide both a behind-the-scenes look at the creative process and a historic perspective on how Nashville came to be Music City.

Innovation and artistry infuse every aspect of Nashville, from its prolific public art installations to the city's celebrated food scene.

Chef-driven restaurants use local flavors to create new twists on traditional fare. Far from stuffy, however, even the most elegant restaurants embody the city's casually creative ambiance. And, of course, there's plenty of Nashville's famous hot chicken and barbecue to go around, too.

For delegates, the unique blend of hospitality, history, dining and nightlife provides just the right mix for networking and unwinding in a setting that simply can't be replicatedanywhere else.

MEETING PLANNERS CAN COUNT ON SUCCESS

What's good for delegates is even better for meeting professionals. With two large convention centers – the Music City Center and Gaylord Opryland® Resort & Convention Center - a host of other meeting space options and skilled service providers to assist with conference design, there are limitless possibilities to configure a customized event.

The many Nashville-specific venues and attractions really make off-site functions stand out and add to the originality of a Music City meeting.

The city's geographic location provides easy access by plane or car to drive attendance. And when it comes to creating room blocks, Nashville accommodates a vast range of sizes, styles and budgets.

New hotels continue to come online in close proximity to both convention centers, allowing planners to take advantage of tiered pricing and giving delegates more options to meet personal preferences.

There's only one Nashville, and the authenticity that sets the city apart also makes for memorable meetings. Call on the talented staff of the Nashville CVC to help produce a one-of-a-kind event that will earn rave reviews.

Tennessee is bordered by eight states – Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina and Virginia – providing extreme accessibility whether by air or by surface transportation.

WHEN YOU'RE IN TOWN

Points-of-Interest Maps: Maps outlining major interstate routes and roadways are available at no charge through the Nashville CVC's Visitor Information Centers, located at the corner of Fifth and Broadway, in the tower of Bridgestone Arena, and at the corner of Fourth and Commerce on the lower level of the Regions Bank building and on our website, visitmusiccity.com/maps.

Downtown – Parking and Navigation: Almost 32,600 parking spaces make it easy to bring a car downtown. Broadway, downtown's main thoroughfare, bisects numbered avenues into north and south. Most corporate offices and government agencies are north of Broadway. For more downtown parking information, please visit parkitdowntown.com. Buses: WeGo Public Transit provides hourly service between downtown and the airport seven days a week. Express trips take only 20 minutes, and local service takes 35 to 45 minutes. One-way fares between the airport and downtown are available for under $2.

In town, WeGo provides bus service in and out of downtown and throughout the city. All-day, unlimited-ride passes are available for $5.25. The Purple Circuit goes from the Metro Public Square up Second Avenue South to the Nashville Children's Theatre. Music City Central, the downtown transit station, is located at 400 Charlotte Ave. For more information, call 615-862-5950, or go online at nashvillemta.org.

"Loved hosting our Annual Celebration event in Nashville in August 2018. Our contacts at the Nashville CVC were part of the entire planning process from beginning to end. Their passion, dedication and commitment to their clients is incomparable. They provided endless support and are always available to assist with any questions sent their way. They truly went above and beyond to set us up for a success! Nashville was a great location for our program as the vibe of the city is fun, outdoorsy and full of life and energy. We are excited to host our event there again in August 2019!"

Jessica Leadingham, Events Destination Manager Isagenix International

August 2018, August 2019, Music City Center

"I am sending along a huge thank you from all the Questies. Nashville was a huge success for our Ouest Sales Kickoff Event (just like I knew it would be)! Our attendees can't stop talking about the location and the Gaylord Oprvland®Resort & Convention Center could not have done a better job. And WOW - what a party at the Wildhorse Saloon. One of my best ever. Thank you all for hanging in there with me over these years as I have tried to bring an event to Nashville. We will be back to Nashville soon for the Quest Sales Kickoff event. Love you all or y'all!"

Heidi Webster, Director, Travel/Admin Services/Incentive, Quest Software February 2019, Gaylord Opryland® Resort & Convention Center

"Our group definitely loves Nashville so I'm sure we will be back in the future. Thanks again for everything you did to help our meeting be successful."

Betty L. Morris Crowe June 2018, Omni Nashville Hotel

"What stands out about our experience in Nashville? Our show was a big success and all our friends at the NCVC and Music City Center made the planning process painless. We'd especially like to give a shout out to the MCC's tech/engineering department for supporting the technical complexities of our event and helping us brand the building through print and digital media. I'm not sure which we were more excited about: the screaming-fast Wi-Fi or the 40-foot guitar logo in the windows of the grand atrium. The MCC also helped us produce a socially and environmentally responsible event: The LEED certified infrastructure, the catering department's commitment to sustainability and the donation programs for leftover food and useful items allowed us to execute our show according to our high CSR standards. Music City was an attractive city for our attendees, with so many restaurants, bars and live music venues all within walking distance of our hotels and the convention center. Another special thanks for our CVC housing partner - their help was essential. With blocks in six hotels, we relied on them to help our attendees, sponsors and staff with all their housing needs."

Diana Connolly, Event Producer DrupalCon 2018 April 2018, Music City Center

MEDICAL

"Run. do not walk to Nashville for your next open date! APhA2018 was a resounding success and broke previous attendance records. The feedback from staff working with the on-site teams, and our attendees utilizing the facilities and city amenities, have been overwhelmingly positive."

Windy K. Christner, CMP, Senior Director, Meetings & Expositions American Pharmacists Association (APhA) March 2018, Music City Center

TRADE/TECHNICAL

"Nashville proved to be one of the best years for the annual NACE CORROSION conference. Our attendees loved all that the city had to offer and the Music City Center. Working with on-site NCVC's temp staff made our onsite execution seamless. We could not be happier with our experience in Nashville and hope to return to the city for a future event."

Lesley Martinez, Manager, Conferences NACE International | The Worldwide Corrosion Authority March 2019, Music City Center

"NRECA has just completed its 76th annual meeting in Nashville and what a great time we had in the city. Nashville has proven to be a hit for our members and exhibitors. The atmosphere is laid-back and relaxing. It is all about taking your time to enjoy every moment in Nashville. The city is affordable with great dining options and free live music everywhere. Another great highlight of hosting a meeting in Nashville is the dedicated teams at Visit Music City and the Music City Center. It is a pleasure to partner with professionals who make it their objective to understand your needs and goals. Not only do they understand the needs, but they merge their skills and services to ensure your goals surpass the mark. NRECA is looking forward to returning to Nashville for 2022 and 2026."

Eric Commodore, CMP, Director, Meeting & Event Planning National Rural Electric Cooperative Association (NRECA) February 2018, March 2022, March 2026, Music City Center

GOVERNMENT

"If you're thinking about hosting your event in Nashville, the NCVC is an outstanding resource from A to Z! They truly define Southern hospitality and were very supportive to help make our annual conference, GSMCON, a stellar success from the planning stages up to the live event. We were especially thrilled with the level of professionalism and customer service provided by their temporary staffing service while working our registration booth. What an awesome team! There's definitely no shortage of entertainment and dining options (Nashville hot chicken is a must!) for everyone to enjoy and soak in all of Nashville's amazing music history and downtown nightlife!"

conference attendees.

My preconceived knowledge of Nashville was quickly diminished. The city is so diverse, vibrant and full of life. The Music City Center is one of the most beautiful convention centers I've been in, with its natural lighting, unique open spaces, huge foyers and large meeting rooms. The NCVC team is very supportive, always going above and beyond both pre-show, on-site and post conference, Our conference attendance surpassed our expectations! Nashville turned out to be our largest conference thus far with over 7,000 attendees. We've already rebooked the city for another one of our conferences!"

FINANCIAL & INSURANCE

"Nashville was a fantastic destination for our 2019 ICBA LIVE national convention. The city hit all the right notes ... from fabulous food and music to all there is to see and do near the Music City Center, it was the perfect package of entertainment and activities, hotels and meeting space for our annual convention. And especially noteworthy was the incredible service provided by everyone in the city, especially our contacts at the Nashville CVC. They were true partners, helping us prepare with marketing resources and expert advice, and were there every step of the way to ensure we could provide the best experience possible for our attendees. We appreciate all did and look forward to coming back to Nashville!"

PRIVATE

Music City has many unique dining establishments, many of which offer private dining.

Consider taking your group to one of the many restaurants along Broadway in the heart of the city's entertainment district.

Many offer patio, openwindow and rooftop options, allowing guests to soak up the downtown atmosphere while enjoying the tremendous views of Lower Broad and the Cumberland River.

Several other area eateries offer private dining, too. Check out the dining section for a comprehensive look at all of the options.

If you're downtown, check out Bourbon Steak in the JW Marriott Nashville hotel, Etch and Woolworth on 5th.

The city's trendy Gulch area gives guests an upscale, city experience close to the heart of downtown.

Restaurants in The Gulch range from upscale steakhouse Kayne Prime to the eclectic 404 Kitchen and Asian-fusioninspired Sunda. Options close to this area include Sinema, one of the city's many innovative restaurants, and The Row, located on historic Music Row.

The city also offers classic comfort food true to its roots. Southern cooking is on the menu at The Loveless Cafe. Famous for its biscuits and homemade preserves, the eatery serves up favorites such as biscuits and gravy, fried chicken and country ham, and is ideal for a party, fundraiser or meeting. The Loveless Barn, located behind the restaurant, features a larger venue space.

MAPPING MUSIC IN NASHVILL

Finding Nashville's live music venues is easier than ever. thanks to a few new initiatives by the Nashville Convention & Visitors Corp.

A free Nashville Live Music App, available for both iPhone and Android devices, locates live music venues throughout the city and tells you who's on stage. Users can search by area of town or venue name, and a handy map function will show your location and the live music venue options nearby. The app's calendar will search live music events up to 30 days out.

No app? No problem. The Nashville CVC has also set up a series of guitar-pick signs that indicate a live music venue. If a particular venue features four or more live shows a week, a pick is placed outside so visitors know where to go for music.

Also transforming the way people are connecting to music in Nashville is the Wayfinding Guidance System. The program integrates pedestrian maps and signage with local street and traffic guidance signs.

Located at some of the city's most traveled tourist areas, the signs detail the major attractions around the area and help visitors find the sites closest to them.
